The County Commissioners Meet and Transact a Lot of Business
That Interests the People of Silver Bow.

BUTTE, Nov. 19 .- Savin Lisa, the newly elected county commissioner, took the cath of office to-day and at once entered upon his duties, taking the place of Charles F. Booth, who had been appointed to serve only until his successor could be elected. The board was reorganised and on motion of J. E. Lloyd, chairman of the old board, D. F. Charles was chosen as theirman of the new.

The commissioners to-day allowed, and ordered paid, the salaries of the cierks and judges of election. They were paid $3 a day for the day of election and at the rate of five cents a vote for counting the ballots. A number of other bills were allowed also, among them the bill of the poerhouse for October, amounting to $558.

The county physicians submitted a report for October showing that during that month eight patients were admitted to the poor house and five were discharged. There were $3 in the place at the end of October. During the same month one was admitted to Wells' hespital, one was discharged, and one remained. The physicians made 53 outside calls in pauper cases and found four cases of scarlet fever in Mesderville.

The bill of Police Magistrate Naughten was referred to the county attorney's office for an opinion, because his charges for witness fees did not agree with the "tab" kept by the attorneys. The county attorney recommended the payment of the bill, saying that the account was taken off the court record, which was the legal basis for the bill, and not the "tab" kept on the cases tried.

After the transaction of some minor business the commissioners drew their per diem as follows and adjourned until next month: John E. Lloyd, 18 days, $144; D. J. Charles, 13 days, and per diem, $104.06; C. F. Booth, 11 days, $88; Savin Lisa, one day, $8.

STORER WANTS TO KNOW. Will Try to Find Out Why Secretary

Gresham Offered to Mediate. WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Representative Bellamy Storer of the committee on for-eign affairs of the house intends presenting to congress when it reassembles a resolution of inquiry as to the action of Secretary Gresham in suggesting to China and Japan that this country will act as a mediator in the settlement of the present war. Mr. Storer is now making a careful nation of the subject, with a view to taking the initiative.

The resolutions when drawn will request the secretary of state to transmit to congress all correspondence on the subject, not incompatible with the public service. They will also ask for information as to what departure, if any, from the traditional policy of the government, as embodied in the Monroe destrine, is contemplated by the executive branch in becoming a factor in the Asiatic entagle-

Mr. Storer says he has no desire to embarrass the executive branch in any for-eign policy it wishes to pursue, but as a member of the committee on foreign affairs he says such a foreign policy as is now contemplated should properly have the attention and judgment of congress. In examining the treaty of 1858 between China and the United States, under which this government has suggested a willingness to mediate. Mr. Storer says the language does not contemplate mediation by the president or executive branch alone. It recites, in substance, that the United States will exercise its good offices in case any nation acts unjustly or oppressively against China. This, Mr. Storer points out, suggests the good offices of the United States, but not of the president, so that it would be proper, and, perhaps, essential, that the congressional branch of the government should act in case such good offices are to be exercised. "From a casual inspection of the treaty." by the president or executive branch alone "From a casual inspection of the treaty,"
Mr. Storer added, "the clause would hardly seem to warrant a proposition of medi-ation unless, as the treaty states, China is being treated 'unjustly or oppressively,' and I do not suppose this government would prejudge the trouble between China and Japan by saying the latter was acting unjustly or oppressively."

Mr. Storer says that any action he takes will be on conservative lines, as he desires to make his inquiry for information rather than criticism until the facts are

But after their lodging had been searched without anything of importance being found the two women were released. It is reported that additional arrests will shortly be made in connection with the investiga-

To the Editor of the Standard:

I wish through your paper to call Rev. J. Butte School CAME DOWN WITH A CRASH

t Seemed Like a Providential Intervention That the Poor Little Innocents Had Been Dismissed a Few Moments.

SUTIT., Nov. 19.—During a heavy wind-sterm about 12 o'clock to-day the largest brick chimney on the West Centerville school house was blown down and went crashing through the roof and into a school room below. It seemed like a provi-dential interference to save many children from serious injuries, or perhaps from be-ing killed outright, that the school was dis-missed a few minutes before the usual missed a few minutes before the usual time, owing to the fact that the clock had

The children were out of the room about 10 minutes when the accident happened, but the teachers, Miss Downey and Miss Roberts, a teacher from one of the other rooms, were still there and had just seated themselves near the stove when the ton of brick, plaster and broke timbers came crashing through the ceil-ing and falling all around them, and it was almost a miracle that they escaped. The stove, which was between the two teachers, was knocked down; Miss The store, which was between the two teachers, was knocked down; Miss Downey's deak and seat, which she had left only a moment before, and a great deal of furniture in the room were smashed, but the two ladies escaped with a tew slight bruises and a severe shock, though they were covered with dirt.

The chimney was built in with the school house wall on the west side and was not braced. It broke about two feet above the roof. After breaking through the roof, it broke the rafters and joists off at one end, then seemed to slide down the incline thus made.

If the accident had happened at a time incline thus made.

If the accident had happened at a time when the room was full of children, many of them would undoubtedly have been killed. Miss Downey suffered so much from the shock she received that she was compelled to go home and her school was suspended for the remainder of the day.

There was danger for some time of the remainder of the roof blowing off and it occasioned considerable uneasiness among the citisens and children. But for the timely arrival of assistance it is probable that the wrecked stove would have set fire to the building. The room will not be in condition to be used again for several days.
